1. Claims 1,3-22 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Andrew (4136879).

Andrew teaches a game board (Fig.1), a plurality of markers (Fig.4), a plurality of spaces (A1-A7 etc), start space (11), a plurality of cards (Fig.7-12), random number generator (Fig.3), and badges (Fig.5). Applicant may note that method steps/rules for playing the game do not further limit the apparatus in the claim.

For example Andrew game pieces can be used for moving on spaces (rule) as well as for marking obtainable spaces (rule).

Applicant might argue that references spaces and cards are not the same as compared to applicant's spaces and cards.

The only difference between applicant's game and the applied reference resides in meaning and information conveyed by the printed matter and not considered patentable EX. Parte Breslow 192 USPQ 431.

For example modifying a task space/card to include a doctor's or a nurse's duties will not in spirit and scope change the configuration of task space/card.

In order to change the theme of the game, it would have been obvious to change the information on spaces/cards to match the theme of the game.

One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested modifying the indicia on spaces/cards to promote a game.

The newly added limitations e.g. inner circle, outer circle, and central region with map are aesthetic and not critical to the game. One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested making aesthetic changes to attract potential players.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 10/21/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The newly added limitations can also be interpreted as merely indicating names and not adding any structure to the apparatus.

Applicant may note that limitations "indicating, representing, associated with" etc. are intended use of the apparatus and have no definite structure furthering the apparatus.

Applicant may also note that rules for playing do not further the apparatus in claims.

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
